In his sixth year as skipper, Terry "Tito" Francona guided The Tribe to their third AL Central crown but were swept by the Astros in the ALDS. Cleveland became the fifth team in major league history to reach 70 years since their last World Series title...The Tribe boasted THREE thirty-plus home run hitters: Jose Ramirez (39), Francisco Lindor (38), and Edwin Encarnacion (32). Lindor topped the ball club in base hits (183) and runs scored (129). Encarnacion was the leader with 107 RBI. Ramirez knocked in 105 and scored 110 times. The Indians finished second in the league with a .259 team batting average and fourth after blasting 216 homers...Ace Corey Kluber received the third most votes for the AL Cy Young Award after posting a 20-7 W/L record and 222 strikeouts. Carlos Carrasco was 17-10 and led the pitching staff with 231 K's. Mike Clevinger was a winner of thirteen contests; Trevor Bauer added twelve victories and whiffed 221 batters. The staff ERA was the A. L.'s fourth best (3.77). They ended the year compiling 1,544 strikeouts, also fourth...Jose Ramirez and Lindor were third and sixth, respectively, in league Most Valuable Player voting...The club announced they would cease using Chief Wahoo as a primary part of their logo starting in 2019.
