View from the Orioles Bird Bath: Two highly-touted ball players, Ryan Mountcastle, 24, and Austin Hays, 25, both home-grown in the Orioles minor league system, finally showed their colors. Mountcastle led the ball club with 33 homers and 89 RBI. Hays displayed well above-average defensive play and added 22 jacks and 71 RBI. The speedy Cedric Mullins gave up switch-hitting and soared with 30 home runs and team-high marks in runs scored (91), base hits (175), and doubles (37). He finished with an .878 OPS..The pitching staff remains a sore spot, but the season's highlight was John Means's no-hitter tossed against the Mariners at Seattle, May 5th. He struck out 12 M's and allowed one base runner, the result of a called and dropped third strike during a 6-0 whitewash. Means won six games (tied with Matt Harvey) to lead the staff along with his 134 K's... The O's ended the year with 100-plus losses for the third time in four seasons. Included were losing streaks of 14 and 19 consecutive games.
