

The Golf Club at Dove Mountain is located in Marana, Arizona. It was designed by Jack Nicklaus.

This course holds the distinction for being the longest venue in PGA Tour history, playing at a length of 7,791 yards. The club boasts the designation as a Jack Nicklaus Signature golf course with 27 holes.

For the 2014 Accenture Match Play Championships, PGA golfers battled it out on the Saguaro and Tortolita courses, which are presented here.

Have fun, and hit'em straight!

Straightaway and slightly downhill, the wide fairway eventually runs into a crossing wash. The approach is uphill over the wash to a green guarded by a bunker short and left, with open space on the right. The landing area is generous to those who club down, and keeps the desert and bunker out of play.
